Above: UMCDF Project General Manager Doug Hamrick, left, and Assistant Operations Manager Kim Jackson, right, talk to U.S. Sen. Ron Wyden staffers Isaiah Akin of Washington, D.C., and Kathleen Cathey, back to camera, of La Grande during a plant tour Aug. 16. The congressional aids received an extensive briefing on the UMCDF operation before visiting the Demilitarization Protective Ensemble Support Area (DSA), the Container Handling Building (CHB), the Munitions Demilitarization Building (MDB) and Control Room. Wyden is Oregon's senior senator.

At left: Visitors to the Benton-Franklin Fair in Kennewick, Wash., check out the protective gear on show inside the depot's display trailer, Aug. 23. The depot, in conjunction with the UMCDF Protocol Department and the Chemical Disposal Outreach Office, provides information at the fair on storage and disposal of chemical weapons. Outreach efforts were also conducted at the Umatilla County fair in Oregon earlier this month.
